Cay Sal Bank, Bahamas...

Situated just 30 miles (49 km) north of Cuba, Cay Sal Bank is the most remote area of the Bahamas. With one of the highest concentrations of blue holes in the world and spectacular vertical walls, Cay Sal Bank offers fantastic snorkeling and exotic diving. While each Cay Sal Bank cruise may vary due to weather and conditions, the outline below will give you a good feel for the exciting week in store for you!

Lusca - Legend of the Blue Holes...

Diving the blue holes of Cay Sal Bank is a unique experience. Nekton guests have described their blue hole dives in many ways ranging from beautiful and fascinating to eerie and haunting.

The eerie feeling you get while diving the blue holes might be from the presence of Lusca, the mythical beast of Bahamian legend. Lusca is half-shark, half-octopus. She lurks deep among the waters of the blue holes and inland caverns that are found throughout the Bahamas' island chain.

Presenting the Nekton Pilot...

-- A revolutionary Small Waterplane Area Twin Hull Liveaboard that offers guests the ultimate smooth ride and luxury accommodations.--The Nekton Pilot offers our popular Bahamas itineraries departing from Fort Lauderdale during the late spring, summer, and early fall months.

--The Nekton Pilot was designed from the ground up specifically as a SCUBA diving Liveaboard for Nekton by SWACAT Technologies. It was delivered into service for Nekton in the spring of 1994 and was built at a shipyard in Palatka Florida. The Nekton Pilot's design includes two struts on each side connecting the superstructure to the submerged pontoons that provide buoyancy. This design provides the ultimate in stability by minimizing the waterplane area. As a diver, you know that even on a rough day, the water is calmer just a few feet below the choppy surface - that's precisely where the pontoons which provide the buoyancy for a are located - hence the submerged pontoons act as stabilizers giving you the feeling you're on a vessel more than eight times its size!
